The readjusters, which means the repudiators, have carried the Virginia Legislature, and if they can agree among themselves there is no imagining what mischief they will do.

An insane woman named Adams in Lancaster county, S. C., cut the jugular veins of her five children, so that they bled to death, and then set her own clothes on fire, so that she died in about three hours. The oldest was a girl 11 years old, and the youngest an infant.

Wassoodeo Bulwunt Phadke, in Afghanistan a noted head of a band of outlaws, has been captured and transported for life, and several of his followers for ten years.

The conciliatory style and courtesy of "the south" (dem.) may be inferred from the words and phrases which we clip from less than two columns in one of their papers not a thousand miles from here:—"Malignant," "truculent slanderers," "tirade," "baseless and absurd," "baseness," "have returned to the vomit again," "worse," "vilest," "meanness, duplicity and falsehood," "political vagaries," "want of political conscience," "federal usurpations," "greed of centralization," "contempt and hatred," "despise," "despise," "despise," "vile and venomous traducers," "misrepresent and pervert," "all manner of lies," "despise and spurn," "gammon," "northern adventurers of the rapacious and sordid type," "delving and toiling for the north," "heaping unfounded accusations upon the south." This is copied from an article entitled "North and South." Come on im-mi-gra-tion and cap-i-tal!

A livery stable keeper named Parker in Holyoke, Massachusetts, a Catholic who disobeyed the priest named Dufresne and was excomunicated, sued the priest for damage to his business, and recovered damage for $3,-433. Judge Bacon, who presided, charged that the law in this country did not allow ecclesiastical interference with a man's business.

The State Republican Committee of Pennsylvania, having ascertained that Mr. Butler's majority lacked only a few hundred of being 60,000 have adjourned, but will soon call the convention for next year, which will be held in May to nominate state officers and select delegates for the national convention.

The N. Y. Herald shows how the Republicans of the New York legislature may elect the electors in the next Presidential election, and not violate the constitution, as South Carolina used to do, but then says:—"Now for the application. The election of a President for a third term is no more forbidden by the constitution than is the taking away of the choice of electors from the people. But in both cases long and approved usage has the force of a constitutional provision, since nothing can be more certain than if the constitution were now to be made it would insure the choice of the President by a popular vote and would limit his re-eligibility."

Roswell Beardsley has held the Post office at North Lansing, N. Y., for over fifty one years, having been commissioned by John Quincy Adams June 28, 1828. He is the oldest Post Master in the United States.

This society is composed of the leading wool manufacturers and wool growers of the United States, and its object is to promote the production of the finer wools.

Gen. Grant is in Chicago attending the meeting of the society of the Army of Tennessee. He was welcomed all along the way from Galena to Chicago, and at the latter city was received by a grandly imposing military and civic procession, by vast multitudes of people, ornamentations on all the streets and public buildings. Gen. Grant said in his reply to the Mayor's address.

To one allusion of my reception abroad, I will say that in every case I felt that it was a tribute to our own country. I will add further that our country stands differently abroad in the estimation of European and Eastern nations from what it did a quarter of a century ago. At that time it was believed we had no nation; it was merely a confederation of states, tied together by a rope of sand, and would give way upon the slightest friction. They have found it was a grand mistake. They know that we have now a nation; that we are a nation of strong and intelligent and brave people, capable of judging and knowing our rights, and determined on all occasions to maintain them against either a domestic or foreign foe; and that is the reception you, as a nation, have received through me while I was abroad.

His reception by the Army of the Tennessee took place on the 12th, and was very imposing.

CARTHAGE, MOORE CO., N C.,
November 12th, 1879.

DEAR POST:—The citizens of Moore county rejoice to see your paper bringing out the name of A. R. Black as a candidate for Superintendent of Public Instruction. We were not aware that he was a Republican, but we know he ought to be, on account of the Stalwart Republican brother of his, Mr. Wm. Black, who lives in this county. If Buxton and Black are on the state ticket Moore county will go Republican by 500 majority. In fact, Moore county seconds the nomination of the following ticket:

For President,
JOHN SHERMAN.
For Vice-President,
THOMAS SETTLE.
For Governor,
RALPH P. BUXTON.
For Lieut-Governor,
DANIEL M. FURCHES.
For Secretary of State,
RICHARD C. BADGER.
For State Treasurer,
DAVID A. JENKINS.
For Attorney-General,
JOHN A. MOORE.
For Superintendent of Public Instructions,
ARCHIE R. BLACK.

The good people of this section certainly endorse the whole ticket, and we also endorse your efforts in giving us a stalwart Republican paper. The remark is made by all who know and read it, that the WILMINGTON POST is the only stalwart and square Republican paper published south of Washington, D. C. Continue your good work in behalf of John Sherman, and we are with you.

CARTHAGE.

The Linckhaw murder trial in the Superior Court of Robeson county, was set for to-morrow.

NEW YORK.

The official returns are in from all but six counties. Mr. Hoskins has 1,215 majority over Potter for Lieut. Governor; Gen. Carr for Secretary of State has 1,500 majority; Mr. Wadsworth for Controller has 6,000 majority; Mr. Wendell for Treasurer has 3,200 majority; and Mr. Ward for Attorney General has 5,000 majority.

Thus the whole Republican state ticket is elected excepting Mr. Soule for Engineer and Surveyor, who is beaten by Horatio Seymour Jr., son of Gov. Seymour.

The remaining six counties will probably increase the Republican majorities.

PLAIN ENGLISH.

Gen. Toombs sent to the editor of the Chicago News the following:

"Atlanta, Ga.—M. E. Stone, Editor: Your telegram received. I decline to answer except to say present my personal congratulations to Gen. Grant on his safe arrival to his country. He fought for his country honorably and won. I fought for mine and lost. I am ready to try it over again. Death to the Union!

[Signed] "R. TOOMBS."

A reporter says that the telegram was garbled. It would not be Toombs if it was anything different. Somebody has lately been denying that Toombs threatened that he would some day call the roll of his slaves to supper at the foot of Bunker Hill Monument. When he did say it, and old, brawny, Boston blacksmith sent him word that if he tried it he would take his breakfast in hell! It was said that for once, on getting the message, Robert blushed!

THE FREEDMAN'S BANK.

The editor of the Raleigh Journal of Industry has been on a visit to Washington, and had an interview with Senator Bruce of Mississippi, in which he obtained some information in regard to the Freedman's Saving Bank. He says also that it is the intention of the Senator to be present at the Fair at Raleigh:

In conversation with the Senator we took occasion to enquire into the affairs of the above named institution and was given the following facts and figures by him.

On a deposit of about $57,000,000 a dividend of 30 per cent has been declared. There is now on hand about $90,000. This together with the amount which it is hoped will be realized by the sale of the Bank's property, which was purchased at fancy and must be sold at panic prices, another dividend of 20 per cent. is anticipated, which will be the winding up of this defunct institution. However, unless this is accomplished very soon, with three commissioners, each receiving $3,000 per annum, with lucrative clerkships and other unnecessary appendages and parapheralia, making in the aggregate $12,000 or $13,000 annually, the machine will be apt to wind up itself before this 20 per cent. mere making 50 per cent. in all, is declared.

It appears from this statement that 50 per cent. of the deposits, or nearly so, will be refunded from the assets. We have always thought that it was the duty of Congress to make provision for refunding the whole amount to the depositors. The institution was designed as an aid to a very poor class of citizens of the United States, and the government in some sense stood as sponsor for it. Instead of aiding the colored people it has actually defrauded them of half their deposits. We do no see why the government is not as much bound to make good this loss as it is to pay its bonds. It is in fact under moral obligations to do so, saying nothing about the propriety of doing it as a matter of policy. No American can think of the fraud, committed upon and impoverished class of our people without a blush of shame. It is to the discredit of the government, that it should stand unliquidated. The $28,-500,000, due these colored people might be put in the form of bonds perhaps.

The retrocession secession state rights attitude of the Democratic party in the last Congress, as well as the remarkable editorials of the party press, especially in the south just before the late elections, and the labored efforts of the same since the people so gloriously and justly rebuked them, to account for their disaster, reminds us of a little incident, as it is very evident the party leaders just now realize their grert loss:

A drunken man was swaying unsteadily down the street the other day, when a dog with a tin pan tied to his narrative, ran between his legs. The collision was so forcible that the man was upset, and the dog ran on minus a piece of his tail. The man got up bewildered, rubbed the bruised end of his spinal column, picked up the dog's tail, and soliloquized thus: "This is hic—unfortunate. Never before knowed or suspected I had sich a thing as a tail, till I go and fall down and break it of. Might made a—hic—fortune 'hibiting myself a man with a tail. There'd bin millions in it; millions—hic—in it! Jis my luck, whenever I git a good thing it's always gone before—hic—I find it out."

More fluctuations and ups and downs in naval stores, but nothing permanent either way. On Friday a fall all round.

NARROW ESCAPE.—A gentleman riding down Nutt street, made a narrow escape yesterday morning. She was carried in a house near by and medical assistance summoned.

DOLLAR FOR DOLLAR.—And twelve times more if you subscribe for the Southern Musical Journal as every southern musician ought. One Dollar a year secures it and a dollar's worth of Premium Sheet Music of your own selection. This takes a dollar right out of your pocket and puts it right back again, giving you the paper absolutely free of costs. Better still, it gives you in every monthly number of the Journal, $1.00 worth of new and choice music. All told, $13 worth for $1.00. Hard to believe, but it is true. Send your dollar to the publishers Messrs. Ludden & Bates, Savannah, Ga., and be convinced; or, send 10 cents for a specimen copy.

SOUTHERN PLANTER AND FARMER.—The November number of this Journal contains the fourth series of articles on "Green Fallow Crops, Animal Manures and Commercial Fertilizers;" A $25 Premium Essay on the Best Method of farming, etc., and many other valuable articles by leading southern farmers. While it makes a specialty of agriculture in all its branches, giving the results of successful experiments rather than the impractical suggestions of the dreaming theorist, there is much in it that cannot fail to interest the thoughtful reader, no matter what occupation he follows. Published at Richmond, Va., at $2.00 a year.

THE PRINCETON REVIEW.—The November number comes to us weighed down with learned disquisitions upon current questions of scholarship. The last of the articles is:—"Prof. Huxley's Exposition of Hume's Philosophy." by Pres. Porter of Yale College; "University Questions in England" by Goldwin Smith; Prof. Tyndall upon the Origin of the Cosmos, by Mark Hopkins, late Pres. of Williams College; Comparative View of American Progress, by Robert Porter. The a Priori Novum Organum of Christianity, by Lyman H. Atwater, of Princeton College; Bimetalism, by Prof. William G. Sumner, of Yale College; Points of Contact between Science and Revelation, by Prof. J. W. Dawson, Montreal; Herbert Spencer's "Data of Ethics," by Pres. McCosh of Princeton College. We cannot begin even to comment on these formidable disquisitions. But we cannot help welcoming the venerable and acute Mark Hopkins, and the always instructive Goldwin Smith.

DEATH OF AN ECCENTRIC MAN.—We noticed in the N. Y. Times last week the death of the Rev. Matthew Hale Smith at his residence in Brooklyn. He has for about twenty years been the regular New York correspondent of the Boston Journal, and was, away back in the palmy days of Charley Rogers. His letters were models in their way, gossipy, smooth sentenced, easy, with all sorts of information about interior matters, pleasantly told of that great city. He was also an orator of no small parts, with an easy manner, a fine presence, and the Boston articulation. He preached often, made political speeches, sometimes exhorted at camp-meetings, and sometimes delivered ornate lyceum lectures in the winter.

In his early life he was noted for his erratic career in religious matters. He started out as a Universalist preacher, which sect at that time taught that all the human race entered a state of purity at death, and that there was no future punishment. Then he became a Unitarian, then a Methodist, and after rotating in nearly all sects, excepting Episcopalians and Catholics, joined the Congregational church, and was settled over a society in the town of Nashua, New Hampshire, even then a large manufacturing place. His teachings were orthodox in doctrine, his life was within the proprieties of his class, and he was an accepted teacher of that kind. He is remembered there on account of an epistolary tilt which he had with John H. Steele, then Governor of New Hampshire, but a native of Randolph county in this state of North Carolina. It is doubtful if one in a thousand of our people are aware that this state ever gave New Hampshire a Governor.

NEW ADVERTISEMENTS.

We stood at an open window
Leaning far over the sill,
And if something hadn't happened
We might have stood there still;
But we reached for a banging shutter
In a blinding northeast breeze,
So our friends will have to be invited
To join in the obsequies.

IF WE COULD ONLY HAVE KNOWN what a storm was brewing (in a teapot), and how far off that shutter was, we should never have ventured our head outside of that window; but it is too late for regrets now; we are nonplussed, completely squelched, have been sat upon, and our friends and the public generally are respectfully invited to attend the obsequies on and we stake our reputation on its being the grandest funeral they ever witnessed.

As he slips he slides, and every time he slides he slips up most woefully. We leave our "kind friends" to find out the meaning of the above, and while they are doing so we will ask the following questions:

Havn't we the ugliest and dirtiest store in the State?

Havn't we the poorest stock of goods in Wilmington?

Havn't we made prices much highesince we commenced?

Havn't we been very unaccommodating and impolite to you?

Havn't we charged you for all he goods delivered?

Havn't we made a great many mistakes and refused to correct them when our attention was called thereto?

All of our friends who answer "yes" to the above questions will please not buy from us any more. Respectfully and truly,

P. L. BRIDGERS & CO.

In glancing over last Sunday's paper we regretted to notice the tacit acknowledgment from some of our brother grocers that we had taken away part of their trade, and making an appeal to the others not to leave them. We regret this exceedingly, especially as they were so kind and considerate about our coming to grief, but suppose, as we have determined to do the ever done in Wilmington, we will in the future have to keep from being so tender hearted, and CUT DOWN PRICES a little more.

THE BLOODY CHASM HAS BEEN BRIDGED OVER.

THE LITTLE JOKERS are not quite gone.

A fine line of TOILET SOAPS received to-day, very low down.

The OLD CAPE FEAR is flourishing and MARTELLE swimming.

We have been over and smoked that "Cigar of Peace," (a fine Havana it was), but still think it would be bad policy to stop furnishing the papers with our fine literary productions, as they have the tendency to keep prices very low, which we, of course, with all other good grocers, desire; only want enough left to pay for clerk's hire, store rent and taxes.

NOT PURITANICAL.

Although opposed to the drinking of Liquors, P. L. BRIDGERS & CO., are not puritanical enough to refuse to sell them, as they think no FIRST CLASS GROCERY STORE can afford to be without; but they promise the ladies that they would never find out there was any on the premises, as it must be taken elsewhere to be drunk.

THE WILMINGTON POST.

W. P. CANADAY, Ed'r & Prop'r.

WILMINGTON, N. C.

SUNDAY MORNING, NOV. 16, 1879.

The live donkey is kicking the dead lion. See the comments of the southern Bourbon press, on Senator Chandler.

If the Star is to be credited General Grant would not be treated with incivility in case he should visit the south. But there is to be very cool and reserved circumspection on the occasion. It will not do for "the south" to forget who and what it is, but it must "maintain its utmost self respect." Grant must have a warm side for this state since it has twice given him its electoral vote, the last time by nearly 25,000 majority. He must desire especially to greet or to be greeted by anybody connected with the Star, inasmuch as that journal has, for four or five years, had a uniform habit, "with the utmost self-respect," of speaking of him as "a besotted wretch," or terms as polite as that.

Mr. Bayard, having just returned from Europe, where he has spent several months, is talking a good deal and seemingly somewhat at cross purposes. In an interview he is reported to have said that no Republican was fit to be President, because they were entirely a sectional party. He does not seem to comprehend that the Republicans are no more sectional than they were during the war, and for similar reasons. But in a speech made at a reception given him by his neighbors in Wilmington, he contrasted the system of government which he had witnessed in Europe with "the generosity, justice and moral grandeur of the principles upon which our own was founded," and after a eulogy of "honest money for honest men," said:—"With prudent counsels, well-considered economies, and steadily prosecuted reforms, with suspicions and ill-will between our own people discouraged and put and end to, we shall have before us an era of prosperity which should gladden the heart of every man who loves this country."

Senator Carpenter of Wisconsin, has been interviewed by the Washington Republican and foretels the difficulties ahead. He shows that the Democrats mean to fix the Senate so that they will control it, but that the Republicans will carry the House." But they mean to spring a trap upon Congress, on the count for President by fixing certain matters beforehand so that they will have a majority in the number of the states; that they will protest against the count of New York or Pennsylvania on some pretext of fraud; when the two [illegible] separate and vote to sustain the [illegible], [illegible] come together again and [illegible] their own man President. He says that the preliminary steps have already been taken by depriving Bisbee of his seat and putting in [illegible]. He says farther:—"There is another contingency to be considered. Suppose, now, the preliminary arrangements I spoke of for a Presidential election by the House should all fail! There's another chance for them, so long as they hold control of the Senate. In the event of a failure to elect by the House the presiding officer of the Senate becomes President ex-officio. Even if the House is a tie, as it may be and will be if those preliminary arrangements are not carried out, the protests against the count of the electoral votes might be debated, continued, and delayed, and other devices might be resorted to until the term of the present Administration expires. Then the Senate would choose a President pro tem., who would become President of the United States ex-officio until a new election should be ordered."

THE WHINING SOUTH.

The Knoxville Whig and Courier, premising that no important thing was ever accomplished by whining, that whining never lightens a burden nor removes an obstruction, adds the following sensible observations, which we copy:

> But a great many of our southern men, young men we are sorry to say, have been inclined to whine over the "misfortunes" of the south. We do not agree with them, as is well known, in styling the downfall of the southern Confederacy a misfortune. We think it better that the south should be whipped a hundred times than that the Union should be dissolved. We think the south's "misfortune" was her fortune, and that, under the new order of things, this section ought to have been far more prosperous than ever before. But a large class of our population have gone about blubbering over their whipping, and trying to excite symathy by whining over their hard lot.
> They whine about "oppression" from the north, and about the loss of their niggers, and about hard times, and about the scarcity of greenbacks, and go around with their knees out and a flag of truce suspended from their posterior. They are too much "discouraged" to work, and have nothing to do but talk politics and whine.
> Had they accepted the situation ten years ago like men, and gone to work with an honest determination to succeed, they would have overcome their troubles long since, and would now be good citizens, on the highway to prosperity. As it is, they are growing poorer, have lost respect for themselves and will, without a change, forfeit the respect of other people.

THE NEXT PRESIDENCY.

Gen. Garfield the other day in a conversation with the the Washington correspondent of the Inter-Ocean said one of the few significant things, which have been said by any eminent man, regarding the nomination of General Grant for the Presidency. When he said that he did "not regard him (Gen. Grant) as the most available candidate, owing partly to the strong sentiment against a third term," and that he did "not believe Grant will be a candidate, or that he desires to be," he hit the nail directly on the head. The feeling against a third term is as dominant as any one sentiment among the American people. It is a sort of an unwritten law which is even stronger than a constitutional provision. It is a traditional sentiment imbedded in the heart of the people, inborn and ineradicable. The hostility to a personal government, to anything which tends towards a monarchy, is fixed and permament in the minds of the people. It is not to be doubted that so inflexible is this sentiment that no man in this nation can be so strong in the public affections that he could escape assassination twenty-four hours if he should attempt such a thing. The sponge of public indignation and fury would wipe out any man or combination that tended that way.

Now, it is plain that no man, not even George Washington, ever had so much of kindly regard from the American people as General Grant. The popular heart beats towards him with one perpetual gush. He is the subject of honest liking from all the great population to whom he has rendered so much service. He will be the national favorite as long as he lives, and he will be borne to the mausoleum when he dies with a funeral magnificence and solemnity of pomp, never yet accorded to any other citizen. We had almost said that his bones will be canonized, and that a place will be found for him among the constellations But we make the assertion that no considerate American thinks of such a thing as making him President for the third time without a feeling that it is a step pregnant with national danger. The instant the step is taken we enter upon a path divergent from the Republic and all its sacred and glorious traditions. We yield to no living American in sincere regard for General Grant, or in recognition of his services, or in respect for his character. But there will, if the event occurs, be ever after to the American people a dark cloud portending the political sky. If we were to conjure up to the worst injury conceivable against General Grant and inflict it upon him, it would be to make him a third time President of the United States. We have no doubt that we utter his sentiments as well as our own.

We can conceive of only one condition on which we could assent to the third term. That is that the Republican party was in such a desperate condition that its only safety lay in taking up some man, more likely to win than any other, and thus substituting expediency for principle. Even then, it would be an open question, whether defeat on principle would not be preferable to success with a violation of principle.

But the Republicans are in no such condition as that. That great party is not only fortunate in having enough of principles, but also in the personelle of its members. There are in its ranks hundreds, and thousands of able, well trained and brilliant men, out from among whom could be drawn any day a hundred as suitable as our average Presidents. But there are quite a number toward whom the attention of the people have been more particularly turned, from whom a selection is easy. He must be difficult to please who would not be satisfied with such a President as several of them would make.

But it happens that the POST, which is quite in the habit of doing its own thinking, has for a long time had a preference for one single person above all others, and beyond all others, and that is the present Secretary of the Treasury, John Sherman. It is not necessary to look in a biographical dictionary to learn who he is. His life for more than twenty-five years has been an open and fearless one. There has been no more wavering in his political course during that time, than in the magnet toward the pole. How he stood speaking for Kansas, how his hand was guiding the Ways and Means Committee of the House in 1861, how he stood again a chairman of the Committee on Finance in the Senate, until he was transfered from that position to the Treasury Department where he sits now as one of the very first financial ministers in the world, is well remembered. Himself the principal advocate and champion of the Resumption Act, it was he who sat at the helm as the country approached that crisis where currency became in an instant equal to gold, and gave stability and confidence to business, and dignity to our public credit all over the world.

It is not alone in finance that his hand has been felt in the affairs of the government. He has stood a peer among the best in the great debates incident to the war, and all the while distinguished for his clearness of vision, his foresight and his intrepidity. If any man more than another has the confidence of the vast business and monetary interests of the country, it is he. If to any one person more than another is due that revival of business prosperity which has reached from those gigantic aggregations of capital down through all grades of business, to all branches of industry, to the forge, to the plough, and given alike renewed elegance to the mansions of the great, and restored comfort to the cabins of the poor and humble, it is John Sherman.

These and other considerations, which we shall hereafter adduce, are the reasons which will induce us to give whatever influence we can command to this great statesman and pure citizen.

THE SOUTHERN ATTITUDE.

When it is considered that the original secession element controls the Democratic party of the south, and that the southern members control the secret councils of both Houses of Congress, the normal condition, the tone and temper and purpose of Democratic politics is fully comprehended. It is discerned as plainly as can be, that the dominant temper of that authority which constitutes our highest law-making power, is the doctrine of secession. Every element in that party bows to the state rights theory—which is nothing but secession under another name. Carried out, the present theories of Democracy would lead precisely where secession did. Every movement of that party tends in that direction. Dissemble as they may, twist and wriggle, deceive and disguise, appear in hypocritical affectations, put on the lion's skin and cover the ears of the other animal, resort to any of those multifarious dissimulations which are common among them, and it does not change the animus of the whole organization. The northern Democrats are led in abasement in the train of this arrogant power, and no one of their leaders, like Thurman, Hendricks, Tilden or Hancock ventures to utter a word in opposition to their Lamars, their Blackburns and their Toombses. No more did Achilles drag the dead body of Hector around the walls of Troy at the wheels of his chariot, than this arrogant heresy of secession does the Democratic party of the north.

These things being accepted as facts, what is going on among the Democrats of the south just now, is easy of interpretation. The whole southern atmosphere is now weighed down with novel opinions and with abnormal ejaculations. New strategic movements are proposed, totally foreign to their real purposes, and they have again dressed themselves up in disguises and are walking about pretending to be what they are not. Since the late elections in the north the newspapers are proposing new plans of operation. Trojan horses are being constructed. One journal cries out that it wants "to see Grant made Dictator" and would rather "see him Emperor of this country as a Nation than to see any man President under the semblance of a community of co equal states." Another journal, far more influential, indeed one of the most influential in the whole south, the Atlanta Constitution, developes the whole plan as follows:

> It is useless to deny that the rumor to which we have alluded has at least the basis of currency, and the fact that it is current seems to us to be as natural as it is significant. It is the result of a well defined fear that stalwart Republicanism, having succeeded in deceiving the public opinion of the north, is about to resume control of the government under auspices that promise no sort of hope for either the political or the material interests of the south; and one of the prime factors of the canvass of such a wild movement is the knowledge that the south has nothing whatever to lose, but everything to gain in any change, no matter how radical, that may be brought about by such causes as may impart friendliness to the powers that be.

And these are put forth as samples of what is being said in public journals, and in private circles all over the south.

In short the sublime conception has entered their brains that they can capture General Grant and subvert him to their purposes, as they did poor old Horace Greely, or would have done if they had elected him. Whether they would find in their second leader the same credulity as they did in their first, if they were to succeed in electing him—whether the argumentum ad ignorantiam would lie—is hardly an open question. But the Atlanta Constitution says that "the south has nothing whatever to lose, but everything to gain in any change, no matter how radical, that may be brought about by such causes as may impart friendliness to the powers that be." So notice is served on General Grant at the outset, what is expected of him. There is an originality, and a jocoseness about this, eminently worthy of southern politics, not to say southern Democratic patriotism. This big game to be played off upon the unsophisticated inhabitants of this country, is eminently worthy, what one of the southern journals speaks of as "the sunny land, with her courteous gentlemen, her gallant heroes, her devoted patriots, her gifted orators, her sagacious statesmen."

It is rather better for parties, as it is for individuals, to act openly and without disguising their purposes. The south, we mean the Democratic part of it, needs a candidate who will fit the occasion. "Tilden and reform," wont do in 1880. The food cooked at the late extra session, cannot be fed out next year. They have made "a solid south," and the north has met them on their own ground, and no President can be elected next time who does not stand squarely upon the principles on which the government was preserved. The policy of the Republican party has no element in it, and no purpose which is not beneficial to the south. Its policy will, if accepted and followed, make the south prosperous and peaceful and law abiding. The rights of voters will be protected, the rights of the laborer will be nourished, the industries will be fostered, people and will capital come to these latitudes as they now go to the west, and the whole of this splendid domain will emerge from its present impoverishment and depression, into the light of prosperity and comfort and an improved civilization. The south has been since the war and is to day its own worst enemy. Its course in politics, has been and is, suicidal. When it can open its blind eyes, and comprehend its magnificent opportunities and possibilities, and abandon its whinings over fancied wrongs, false policies, its humbug and its tom-foolery, it will encounter nothing but kindness instead of criticism, and will be in heart as much a part of the nation as it is now in fact by the inexorable decree of events.

MAJOR ANDERSON.

In one of the articles in the North American Review, entitled the "Diary of a Public Man," there is an assertion that at the time Fort Sumter was beleagured by the South Carolina troops it was understood that if Kentucky joined the seceding states Major Anderson would resign his commission, and tender his services to her. These articles by the way are now attributed to Henry S. Sandford, once Minister to Belgium under Lincoln, and recently of Florida. Anybody who knows anything about Sandford will take the "Diary" articles hereafter with a good deal of discount.

But a correspondent of the Boston Herald has had a conversation with the widow of Major Anderson who, with her daughters, are now living at the New York Hotel, and she denies indignantly the slander on her husbands character. In justice to Major, afterwards Major-General, Anderson, we give some extracts from what Mrs. Anderson says, and we have no doubt the unquestionable refutal of the scandal gotten up by "Diary," will be pleasing to every true American. When the correspondent cited what had appeared in the North American Review of which she did not seem to have heard, as she is confined to her room as an invalid:

"That is truly astonishing," Mrs. Anderson exclaimed, "besides being, to us, a just cause for profound indignation. It is so unjust for anybody to accuse my dead husband of disloyalty, particularly at this late day, that I am glad you offer me the opportunity to make a public denial. Where do you say this is published?"

"In the North American Review," the writer replied.

"You see, sir," the lady continued, "my ill-health keeps me in seclusion. I see hardly any visitors, and read little; so this is the first I have known of the article. Let me see. The purport of it is—is it not?—that my husband hesitated whether to cast in his lot with the secessionists, or to remain loyal to his country. That is wholly false. I was in receipt of letters from him daily, and oftener, while he was in Fort Sumter, and he expressed himself most unreservedly. He never had a thought, believe me, of becoming a traitor. I may fairly say that he was morbid on that subject, and I would surely have known of it if he had for an instant wavered as to what was his duty.

"It was frequently said to him at that time, "If Kentucky secedes what will you do?" I remember his reply on one occasion perfectly. He said: 'My being born in Kentucky is something with which I had nothing to do; but my oath to support the government was an act of my own manhood, and I will keep it, so help me God as long as I live.' That was an honest expression of his feeling on the subject, and so the great pressure brought to bear upon him did not move him a jot."

* * * * *

"Everything possible was done to make him go over, but he at no time had any idea of being moved. He had been placed in that position by his government, just as I place that charge where it stands, and he was quite immovable of his own will. To all arguments he had a single reply—he had sworn to support his government. Prominent secessionists endeavored to convince him that his stand was wrong."

* * * * *

"He would listen courteously and silently to all the sophistries, and then quietly say: 'Excuse me, but I cannot see it as you do. I have sworn to support the government of the United States, and I am going to do it.'"

"Then I understand you to characterize the imputation of disloyalty as utterly unfounded?"

"Yes, sir, utterly. So long as my husband lived nobody dared to express a doubt on that point, and, now that the charge is tardily made, I desire to answer it with all the force that his wife's word ought to carry. Major Robert Anderson never had it in his heart to go with the secessionists, in any possible contingency; but, under the strongest pressure from the South, never for an instant faltered in his obedience to the government at Washington."

Alamance Gleaner: Bob Boswell, the negro murderer, was hanged in Hillsboro last Friday, in the presence of a large crowd, estimated at three thousand people. At the fall term of 1878, he was convicted of the murder of a negro woman named Nannie Blackwell, and her two children and then burning the house with their bodies in it, in an attempt to conceal his crime.

CHEEK.

We observe that the association of Dead Beats meeting in Washington, and calling themselves "The Southern Republicans," have read out our friend, Gen. Allan Rutherford, of this state, in consequence of a recent publication in the POST, in which the General, being interviewed by the POST, stated some facts which apparently stick in the crops of the aforesaid association of Dead Beats. We congratulate Gen. Rutherford on this result of our interview. The connection of his name with this association, gave it whatever importance or consideration it might have been entitled to, as he is so well known and so much thought of in this state. As Gen R., never attended but one meeting—the first—and never had anything more to do with the crowd, it is certainly a cool piece of business to read him out. We respectfully invite the attention of the heads of Departments in Washington to the Civil Service Rules, in connection with their clerks, who seek through the "Bull-dozing" operations of these so-called "Southern Republicans" to force themselves into some petty position.

If their services are worth anything to the government they had better be attending to their duties. And we take this opportunity, speaking for the Republican party of the south, to say: that its policy will not be controlled by any set of men living in Washington or elsewhere in the north. We propose attending to our own affairs.

And while we are on this matter we desire to say there are a great many men employed in the Departments charged to this state who are not citizens of North Carolina, who have not been in the state for several years and who do not and cannot vote in this state. We will in a short time publish their names for the benefit of heads of the Departments at Washington. If the state is entitled to such a number of the employees in Washington, we should have them and not have men from other states charged to this state.

SEVERAL SHIPWRECKS.

On the morning of the 7th inst., at about 30 miles off the Delaware breakwater, the American Steamship Champion, of the Charleston and New York line, on its way to Charleston, and the English ship, Lady Octavia, bound out, collided. The Champion had on board 16 passengers and a crew of 39, and sunk in 14 fathoms of water in about 5 minutes. The Octavia not being very badly injured staid in the vicinity several hours picking up the persons on board the Champion.

The total number on board was 55, of whom 10 were cabin passengers, 6 steerage passengers, and 39 crew. Of the cabin passengers, 3 were saved; of the steerage passengers, 2, and of the crew, 20; 7 cabin passengers were lost; 4 steerage passengers, and 19 of the crew.

The bark [illegible] came along at the time of the accident, and rescued 6 survivors, and carried them to New York. The Champion was sailing at 10½ knots southward and the Octavia had all sails set, striking the Champion near the bow, smashing it in, so that she went down at once.

The steamer Falcon, of the Baltimore and Charleston line, with a full cargo, and several passengers, bound for Charleston, when in the Chespeake, near Barren Island was run into by the schooner S. C. Tryon from the Kennebec river, loaded with ice. She struck the steamer about the mizzen mast, and she sunk very soon. All the crew and passengers were saved. Steamer worth about $30,000, and cargo worth about $25,000.

The steamer Arizona of the Guion line, Liverpool and New York, from New York, while crossing the Newfoundland Banks run headlong into an iceberg, on the night of the 7th. She was running about 15 knots an hour, and her bow was stove in, but not her bulwark. She was taken in to St. John's Newfoundland. All on board saved.

On Friday evening the ladies were gathered as usual in the saloon, and one of their number, Miss Gaslett, of England, was playing an accompaniment to a glee song—"See our oars with feathered spray"—which one of the gentlemen was singing. Without a moment's warning, and before any one could realize what had occurred, a terrible crash was heard. The hull of the steamer shook as though every rivet had burst asunder, and the ladies and gentlemen were hurled from their seats and sent sprawling on the floor. A spasm of terror seized on many of the ladies, but the majority displayed wonderful coolness and self-possession. One lady fainted and others sobbed hysterically, but they were soon joined by husbands and friends, who, seizing cloaks and wraps, hurried their fair charges to the deck.

The Austrian bark Hebe, from Trieste arrived at New York, having on board six of the 27 on board the water logged schooner Petrel of New Bedford, bound to Cape Verde Islands. She had been struck by a fearful hurricane which capsized the schooner, and those who were rescued by the Hebe had hung to the rigging in the utmost misery from thirst and hunger.

The Chatham Record says that Merritt Upchurch of that county, has been arrested for incest with his own daughter.

JEWELRY

$75.00 worth for $15.00

Abyssinian Gold Watch

FREE!

The above offer is genuine, although at first sight you would consider it impossible. We will explain: Since we first established our business here, March 1st, 1878, we have paid particular attention to the buying of Bankrupt and Auction lots of Jewelry and Watches, often buying at as low as one-tenth their value, and in no instance have we paid over one-sixth the manufacturers' price. Since starting we have always been able to dispose of these goods in Chicago and through our regular customers throughout the country at nearly regular prices, as fast as we could procure them, but owing to the large number of failures among the heaviest dealers and manufacturers throughout this and other countries during the months of June, July and August (the time when the Jewelry business is stagnant), we have now on hand an immense stock of the most desirable goods we have ever handled, and which we have bought at lower prices than ever before. In order to dispose of this entire stock in the most speedy manner possible, and make room for new ones which we shall continue to buy, we have hit upon the following novel plan:

We propose to give you a list of the most desirable of these goods, giving opposite each article its regular retail value, and sell to you at the rate of Five Dollars' worth for $1.00. For instance, on receipt of 50 cts. we will send you, POSTPAID, any article to the value of $2.50; on receipt of $1.00 articles to the value of $5.00, and so on throughout the entire list. Below we give a list of the most valuable of these goods.

THE WILMINGTON POST.

WILMINGTON, N. C.,

SUNDAY MORNING, NOV. 16, 1879.

AT HOME, Nov. 11, 1879.

HON. W. P. CANADAY:

MY DEAR SIR:—I have yours of the 8th inst. Now my dear sir, let me tell you that I am opposed to Gen. Grant's being a candidate for President because it is unnecessary that the American people should repeal the unwritten higher law, that no man should have a third term. I deem further, that Gen. Grant would not, for himself, impose such an innovation upon our people. This unwritten constitution given us by George Washington is high authority, and demands and will receive, the respect of all true citizens of this country.

I do not believe either, that it is necessary to nominate Gen. Grant to save the Republican party. If such is the case, then let the party go. If the salvation of this country and its institutions depend upon one man, it is bad for this country. "There is a God in Israel," but there is no God at Galena that is greater than HE. If this country has to be remanded to a monarch, then I am for Grant. I believe and know him to be a wise and good man, and if we must have a monarch, then I am for Grant with my hat uplifted. But our people are free yet, and can remain free for many years to come. Our freedom in the south is spoiled, it is true, by the madness of southern Democratic leaders, but time will even cure that. It is better to bear the ills we have than to fly to a graver uncertainty, which we know might bury the life of our present form of government.

Let the Republican party nominate John Sherman, a man known to be sound on principles of loyal government, and the only man in politics of either party, who understands our true political economy. He is the only man in politics, who really understands the financial problem that has caused so much trouble of late years. Mr. Sherman is for gold, silver and greenbacks; he is a tri-money financier, but he wants the paper to be good as gold, and the silver good as paper. This is the sound-est policy that can be presented, and John Sherman, so long the known leader in firm, common sense views, is the man to lead politics in our country at this important time. This country wants a business man for President, and will take no sentimental man on "horse-back," any sooner than it will take a man in "barrels."

I am yours truly,
O. H. BLOCKER.

BURGAW, PENDER CO., N. C.
November 14th, 1879.

EDITOR POST:—Pender is "Booming" and rapidly falling into line. The rapid increase in circulation of your valuable paper indicates the great rush for recognition in the party that is to continue freedom and prosperity to her people. The only drawback we have in Pender is the recognition of so called party leaders, who advocate Republican principles and work in Democratic rings and vote that way to elect Democrats to office, in order to shield their misdemeanors. My conception of Republican principles does not admit of such inconsistency, or bulldozing, as the popular term gives it. The sooner such land sharks are gotten rid of the better for the great principles we advocate, and I trust you will not spare the lash. I am prepared to furnish data in my next.

EPHRAIM.

STATE ITEMS

J. H. Ennis, Raleigh, publisher, will please accept our thanks for Turner's Almanac for 1880.

The Greensboro Patriot, lately purchased by Capt. R. T. Fulghum, of Raleigh, comes to us this week, greatly improved in every respect. Success to the new proprietor.

Ashville Citizen: The late rains were peculiarly severe on the line of the Western North Carolina Railroad, and the streams on the mountains are said to have been higher than for forty years. The embankments and cuts on the road on the Blue Ridge suffered heavily, the famous "mud cut" not being the only sufferer. A heavy force has been since employed repairing damages.

The Statesville American, an exceedingly well made up and moderate Republican newspaper, has employed the Hon. Lewis Hanes as its editorial writer. The paper is to be enlarged and in all ways improved as a family journal. There are very few managers of newspapers who conduct a journal with so much good judgment and so perfect a knowledge of the population which he addresses as Mr. Drake, the present editor. Mr. Hanes is a very able writer, who is somewhat given to the lengthy and essay style, but he will bring to the American, no doubt, increased consideration.

The Spirit of the South gives an account of a cutting scrape in Wolfe Pit township. A young man named Henry Blount was badly stabbed in the neck and arms by Eb. Sweat and his father. The wounded man is very seriously hurt, there being only slight chances for his recovery. The stab in the neck is the most serious of the wounds, although it seems that both of the arms were split to the bone for a distance of six inches above each elbow. The wound in the neck is frightful, extending to the cavity of the chest, severing several important blood vessels and narrowly missing the jugular vein. This is the tenth murder in that brilliant town in a dozen years, and all but one done by stabbing. Arrests have been made by Sheriff Long, but Eb. Sweat has run away to South Carolina.

Senator Edmunds.

A Northern correspondent thus writes the Chattanooga Commercial, in a long letter from Vermont:

At the bar, among her dead, Phelps was the peer of any and Daniel Webster once said, he never met his superior as a lawyer. He was a walking library and an overwhelming torrent of eloquence and power. Among her living, Edmunds, quietly enters our senate halls and leads in moulding the legislation of 40,000,000 people without a superior and with few equals. By the by, if Senator Edmunds lived in a larger state it would take hard work to keep from him the next nomination of the Republican party for President. Mixed up with no jobs; a paragon of personal purity in politics; wise in council; a match for any in debate; gentle in manner, yet with a courage of his convictions that never quails before the foe; Edmunds would make a leader his party could safely delight to honor, and whose magnificent ability would throw splendor around any position he might be called to fill. Not long ago I heard an ex Senator say he was the brightest man in the Senate. Any how, Vermont is proud of him too, and will surrender him to nothing less than the Presidency.

The Washington Critic learns that in a few days, General Walker, superintendent of the census, will conclude the work of laying out the districts in the several states to be under the charge of the supervisors of the census. There are only 150 supervisors in all allowed by law, and New York will lead off with 11; Pennsylvania comes next with 10, and Illinois and Ohio with 8 each. Georgia, Kentucky, Tennessee and Virginia will have 5 each. North Carolina 4, Louisiana, Maryland, Mississippi and South Carolina 3 each; West Virginia 2, and the District of Columbia and the Territories 1 each. No city will have more than one supervisor. There are a vast number of applicants for these positions, but no appointments will be made until after the meeting of Congress.

Two Lincolnshire farmers sailed for New Zealand from England the other day, in compliance with a requisition from upward of 500 farmers and landowners, who occupy or own in the aggregate considerably more than 100,000 acres, asking them to proceed to that colony, in order that, after personal inspection, they may report upon it as a field for emigration for farmers of means and capitalists, with special reference to such as have had experience of farming in Lincolnshire.

An ex Union soldier, who has been settled in North Carolina as a successful tobacco planter ever since the war, has decided to sell out and return with his family to the north. In a letter to a friend in Connecticut he says; "State rights is the rallying cry south as much now as in 1860; and when you at the north learn the true issue it may be too late to save the Union. So wake up, and save it before it is too late. Hayes's conciliatory course has been our ruin—nearly. Talk about conciliating traitors and rebels—bah! They use shot-guns while you use moral suasion, and they keep ahead and on top all the time. It is about time to meet them with their own weapons."

PROF. HARRIS' RADICAL CURE FOR SPERMATORRHŒA.

THE

"SEMINAL PASTILLE"

Trade Mark.

SHAPE & SIZE OF A SEMINAL PASTILLE

A Valuable Discovery and New Departure in Medical Science, an entirely New and positively effective Remedy for the speedy and permanent Cure of Seminal Emissions & Impotency by the only true way, viz: Direct Application to the principal seat of the Disease, acting by Absorption, and exerting its specific influence on the Seminal Vesicles, Ejaculatory Ducts, Prostrate Gland and Urethra. The use of the Remedy is attended with no pain or inconvenience, it is quickly dissolved and soon absorbed, producing an immediate soothing and restorative effect upon the sexual and nervous organizations wrecked from self-abuse and excesses, stopping the drain from the system, restoring the mind to health and sound memory, removing the Dimness of Sight, Nervous Debility, Confusion of Ideas, Aversion to Society, Etc. Etc. and the appearance of premature old age usually accompanying this trouble, and restoring perfect Sexual Vigor, where it has been dormant for years. This mode of treatment has stood the test in very severe cases, and is now a pronounced success. Drugs are too much prescribed in these troubles, and, as many can bear witness to, with but little if any permanent good. There is no nonsense about this Preparation, Practical observation enables us to positively guarantee that it will give satisfaction.——During the eight years that it has been in general use, we have thousands of testimonials as to its value, and it is now conceded by the Medical Profession to be the most rational means yet discovered of reaching and curing this very prevalent trouble, that is well known to be the cause of untold misery to so many, and upon whom quacks prey with their useless nostrums and big fees. The Remedy is put up in a neat box, enough to last a month, and sent in a plain wrapper by mail sealed for $3. Two boxes, (sufficient to effect a permanent cure unless in severe cases) $5—Three boxes lasting three full months, will stop emissions, and restore vigor, in the worst cases $7.—Full DIRECTIONS for using will accompany EACH BOX.

Send for a Descriptive Pamphlet giving Anatomical Illustrations, which will convince the most sceptical that they can be restored to perfect manhood, and fitted for the duties of life, same as if never affected. Sent Sealed for stamp to any one. Sold ONLY by the

People are getting acquainted—and those who are not ought to be—with the wonderful merits of that great American Remedy, the

MEXICAN

Mustang Liniment,

FOR MAN AND BEAST.

This liniment very naturally originated in America, where Nature provides in her laboratory such surprising antidotes for the maladies of her children. Its fame has been spreading for 35 years, until now it encircles the habitable globe.

The Mexican Mustang Liniment is a matchless remedy for all external ailments of man and beast.

To stock owners and farmers it is invaluable.

A single bottle often saves a human life or restores the usefulness of an excellent horse, ox, cow, or sheep.

It cures foot-rot, hoof-ail, hollow horn, grub, screw-worm, shoulder-rot, mange, the bites and stings of poisonous reptiles and insects, and every such drawback to stock breeding and bush life.

It cures every external trouble of horses, such as lameness, scratches, swinny, sprains, founder, wind-gall, ring-bone, etc., etc.

The Mexican Mustang Liniment is the quickest cure in the world for accidents occurring in the family, in the absence of a physician, such as burns, scalds, sprains, cuts, etc., and for rheumatism, and stiffness engendered by exposure. Particularly valuable to Miners.

It is the cheapest remedy in the world, for it penetrates the muscle to the bone, and a single application is generally sufficient to cure.

Mexican Mustang Liniment is put up in three sizes of bottles, the larger ones being proportionately much the cheapest. Sold everywhere.

THE WILMINGTON POST.

WILMINGTON, N. C.,
SUNDAY MORNING, NOV. 16, 1879.

MARINE NEWS.—The British ship Oneota, which arrived at New York on the 12th inst. from Liverpool, via Tybee, reports that on the 9th instant, thirty miles east of Cape Fear, she passed a three masted schooner sunk, with mast standing ten feet out of water; same day saw a steamer with a three masted schooner in tow, apparently making for Wilmington, N. C., supposed to have been in collision, she having her bowsprit and cutwater carried away. These schooners were probably the Sadie Willcut and Mary Louisa, which came in collision on the morning of the 9th of November, off Frying Pan Shoals, when the latter was sunk, the Sadie Willcut being afterwards towed into this port in a disabled condition.

A. M. E. CONFERENCE.—The 12th annual Conference of the African Methodist Episcopal Church met here on Wednesday morning at St. Stephens. Called to order by Bishop Brown, D. D. It was ruled that the presiding officer should appoint all the committees. A committee on the state of the country and several others were appointed. Adjourned.

Rev. A. H. Newton delivered an address in behalf of the Conference, welcoming the Bishop on his safe arrival from Europe back home again.

The Bishop replied in a short address.

The Financial, Statistical and Sunday reports were called for and answered. Adjourned.

Third day. Conference met pursuant to adjournment, and the proceedings were opened with religious exercises, conducted by Rev. C. Sampson.

The several committees made their reports to the Conference.

Rev. R. H. W. Leak was elected to Elder's orders.

The examination of characters was taken up by calling the roll of the Conference. All stood fair with a few exceptions.

An address was delivered by Rev. J. C. Embry, the Financial Secretary, which occupied the attention of the Conference from 2 until 4 o'clock.

After the afternoon services the Conference met again at 7½ o'clock, to hear an address from Bishop J. P. Campbell, D. D., LL. D., on the subject of his recent travels through Europe and its relations to the A. M. E. connections.

WASHINGTON LETTER.

GOSSIP ABOUT THE ELECTIONS.

VARIOUS VIEWS.

SECRETARY SHERMAN'S POPULARITY AMONG THE PEOPLE.

[FROM OUR OWN CORRESPONDENT.]

WASHINGTON, D. C., Nov. 13, '79.

STILL TALKING ABOUT THE ELECTIONS.

There is an absolute dearth of news in Washington at this time. The heads of Departments and Bureaus are all busy in getting up their yearly chronicles of what has been called Department Reports, and the one topic of talk is still the recent elections. Interest in this subject is still centered in New York. At this time of writing it is safe to say that the Republicans have elected their tickets in that state, with one exception—that of State Engineer.

WHAT IS SAID OF THE ELECTIONS.

A stalwart Republican from the Pacific coast said: "To me the election in New York means that it is virtually a drawn battle. That is the pivotal state. The battle, next year, is to be fought there, for that state decides the election." Now, Tilden compelled the Democratic party to take the ground that he had been defrauded, that he was the claimant, that he must be vindicated. That is the sole meaning of the Potter investigation committee. He comes out of this election in New York beaten at the polls, but he has the party organization more surely in his control than ever before. He can either nominate himself, or name the man. To attempt to carry that state without him is the merest folly. Besides he has money to spend. Tilden will be the Democratic candidate. That means that he must.

HAVE NO D—D NONSENSE

About "booms" for this "favorite son," or that one.

WHAT A SOUTHERN DEMOCRAT SAID.

A gentleman who is now in a lucrative business in this city, a descendant of an historical southern family, whose grandfather served eighteen years in the United States Senate, and his paternal uncle was the late Rear Admiral Goldsborough. This gentleman was for years the managing editor of a prominent western Democratic daily. His sources of information are of the best. He said: "So far as the Democratic party is concerned, Mr. Tilden commands the situation. He can either nominate himself, or name the man.—It is my conviction that he will name himself. He is stronger today in New York, for 1880, than ever before. I esteem him the greatest intellectual force in America. What man is there under so many adverse circumstances who could come so near success as he did? You Republicans will make a fatal mistake if you weigh his power lightly. I can give you Republicans a point that you had better bear in mind. Do you remember the lesson of Oregon in 1876? The quibble about the one electoral vote in that state? Mark my words: All the power of the shrewdest lawyer and politician will be bent to the one end of repeating that scheme in one, way or another in every doubtful state, like Oregon, California, North Carolina, Florida, Louisiana and New Jersey. There will be in 1880, unless you have a Waterloo victory, which I do not anticipate. This is the way it looks to me. You must nominate a man in whom your people both north and south have confidence. Either Grant or Sherman possess that. Blaine does not have the confidence of the south. He defeated the 'force bill,' if you remember, leaving his Speakers' Chair to go on the floor and use all his influence against it. Therefore you must nominate a man who, if elected, will not only take his oath of office, but his seat—quibbles of law, or no quibble. Either Sherman or Grant would divide the south—where Blaine could not.—But one last word: You Republicans will make a fatal mistake if you think the New York election puts Tilden out of the race."

TWO PRESIDENTIAL CLAIMANTS

STILL ANOTHER VIEW.

"Colonel A. T. Morgan, who was lately sheriff of Yazoo county, Miss., and who barely escaped from that state in 1875, with his life, has just returned from a stumping tour, first in Ohio, and second in Pennsylvania. His story of life in Yazoo is eloquently told, and he is today one of the most popular speakers in the Republican ranks. In speaking of this subject he said: "I believe that Grant's popularity is greater among the politicians than among the people, and I will tell you why. When speaking I would name the three most prominent candidates, in order to test the feeling of those present. Often I found that Gen. Grant's name was received in silence. Mr. Blaine's always drew some cheers, while I found that the name of

SHERMAN ALWAYS DREW ROUNDS OF APPLAUSE.

Do not think I'm in "Sherman boom" business. I am only telling my experience, which has led me to think that he has a most powerful hold on the heart of the people."

Straws show which way the wind blows—we are always told. If that adage be true, then a most notable one is pointing the present way of the wind.

ALEXANDER STEPHENS

is in town. He steadily insists that he will not be interviewed for the press. But, in talking with his friends he points out how prophetic were his warnings to the ultra Bourbons in the extra session of Congress, as to the error of their recent course in forcing the sectional issue. He says he has no desire to exult over the "Joe Blackburn crowd," but his jaw is very loose indeed in commenting on their many blunders. He also says that the true course of the Democratic party, now, is to abandon all attempts at President making; to sternly set their faces against all raids on the national treasury, and to inaugurate real reform in the administration of the government. All this sounds well. It reads well. But you might as well expect to extract the odor of wood violets from the scent pouch of a common skunk as to look for common sense in the present Bourbon Greenback Congress.

TOO MANY "DOLLARS OF THE DADDIES."

Secretary Sherman will ask Congress to amend the law which provides that a certain number of the silver dollars shall be coined each month, on the ground that the people do not want them, and they are now accumulating in the Treasury beyond its capacity to store them, and that the money thus rendered useless can be better employed. Not only are the silver dollars a drug, but gold is becoming one also. Government employees and others who receive gold go to the Treasury and ask to exchange it for treasury notes or bank notes, and their request is generally refused. It was a notable fact that while the Democrats and Greenbackers were loudly howling from the stump that resumption did not mean to resume, people were actually striving to avoid receiving gold, as well as silver from government disbursing agents.—And John Sherman, more than any one man, by his courage, skill and pluck brought about this most notable fact that, view it from whatever point you may, our country is now securely started on the road for a quarter of a century of unexampled prosperity.

Consumption Cured.

An old physician, retired from practice, having had placed in his hands by an East India missionary the formula of a simple vegetable remedy for the speedy and permanent cure for Consumption, Bronchitis, Catarrh Asthma, and all throat and lung affections, also a positive and radical cure for Nervous Debility and all Nervous Complaints, after having tested its wonderful curative powers in thousands of cases, has felt it his duty to make it known to his suffering fellows. Actuated by this motive and a desire to relieve human suffering, I will send free of charge to all who desire it this recipe, in German, French, or English, with full directions for preparing and using. Sent by mail by addressing with stamp, naming this paper, W. W. Sherar, 149 Powers' Block, Rochester, N. Y.

What has the Democratic party of North Carolina done for the people?

They have deprived them of the right to choose their own magistrates and county commissioners.

They have deprived them of an efficient school law through the negligence of Democratic officers in the legislature.

They have increased offices for the purpose of providing a place for party favorites.

They have increased the burden of taxation without representation.—Roan Mountain Republican.

THE GENUINE
DR. C. McLANE'S
CELEBRATED
FOR THE CURE OF
Hepatitis, or Liver Complaint,
DYSPEPSIA AND SICK HEADACHE.

Symptoms of a Diseased Liver.

PAIN in the right side, under the edge of the ribs, increases on pressure; sometimes the pain is in the left side; the patient is rarely able to lie on the left side; sometimes the pain is felt under the shoulder blade, and it frequently extends to the top of the shoulder, and is sometimes mistaken for rheumatism in the arm. The stomach is affected with loss of appetite and sickness; the bowels in general are costive, sometimes alternative with lax; the head is troubled with pain, accompanied with a dull, heavy sensation in the back part. There is generally a considerable loss of memory, accompanied with a painful sensation of having left undone something which ought to have been done. A slight, dry cough is sometimes an attendant. The patient complains of weariness and debility; he is easily startled, his feet are cold or burning, and he complains of a prickly sensation of the skin; his spirits are low; and although he is satisfied that exercise would be beneficial to him, yet he can scarcely summon up fortitude enough to try it. In fact, he distrusts every remedy. Several of the above symptoms attend the disease, but cases have occurred where few of them existed, yet examination of the body, after death, has shown the LIVER to have been extensively deranged.

AGUE AND FEVER.

DR. C. McLANE'S LIVER PILLS, IN CASES OF AGUE AND FEVER, when taken with Quinine, are productive of the most happy results. No better cathartic can be used, preparatory to, or after taking Quinine. We would advise all who are afflicted with this disease to give them a FAIR TRIAL.

For all bilious derangements, and as a simple purgative, they are unequaled.

BEWARE OF IMITATIONS.

The genuine are never sugar coated.

Every box has a red wax seal on the lid, with the impression DR. McLANE'S LIVER PILLS.

The genuine McLANE'S LIVER PILLS bear the signatures of C. McLANE and FLEMING BROS. on the wrappers.

Insist upon having the genuine DR. C. McLANE'S LIVER PILLS, prepared by Fleming Bros., of Pittsburgh, Pa., the market being full of imitations of the name McLane, spelled differently but same pronunciation.

CITY LOTS
25x125 FEET
SITUATED IN NORTH DENVER,
FREE!

Opera House, Denver, Col.

U. S. Mint, Denver, Col.

EVERY OTHER LOT ABSOLUTELY FREE! } { WARRANTEE DEED WITHOUT RESERVE.

Denver now has a population of 40,000. Great cities are the outgrowth of great countries. Twenty years ago Denver was a small trading post on the frontier, now it is a large city, with numerous Churches, Hotels, Theaters, Street-railroads, Gas-works, Water-works, Gold and Silver Smelting and Refining Works, with a United States Mint, and is the great Railroad Center of the West. There are seven First-class Railroads now running and connecting with all the Principal and Branch Railroads from Maine to California. It is the Capital of Colorado, naturally the richest State in the Union, and located in about the geographical center of the United States. The climate is charming, with the best water and purest air in the world, and the scenery is unexcelled for beauty and grandeur. It is surrounded by the richest Gold, Silver, Copper, Iron, Lead, and Coal Mines and Agricultural Lands in America. It is now the headquarters for Colorado, Kansas, Nebraska, New Mexico, Wyoming, Nevada, Arizona, and Northern Texas. The rich mineral and agricultural resources of this vast country will make Denver the largest and wealthiest city in the West.

WHY LOTS ARE GIVEN AWAY.

As the tide of immigration is now in this direction, it is the Company's interest to have people locate in Denver and on their property. To encourage emigration here, the Company will give to any one sending their names and address a warrantee deed, in fee simple, for one or more lots in North Denver, situated in Weld County, State of Colorado, in immediate view of this beautiful city, the only cost being one dollar to pay the Notary Public fees for acknowledging deed and conveyance. The Company does not give every lot away, but each alternate one, and does not expect that every person who gets a lot in North Denver will come here, but a great many will, and they will induce their friends to follow. The increased population will soon make this property very valuable, and this Company retain each alternate lot, which they ask at prices varying from $25 to $500, according to location. For this reason the above offer is made. The deeds are unconditional, not requiring any one to settle or improve, but with full power to transfer and deed to others. The limit to any one person taking advantage of this offer is five lots. This property is not hillside, mountain, or swamp, but is level, fertile, and has advantages for building upon too numerous to mention. Full and satisfactory information, with indorsements from our best citizens, will be furnished.

CERTIFICATE OF TITLE.

I, W. C. SANDERS, County Clerk and Recorder within and for said County and State, do hereby certify the above and foregoing to be true, and title complete to the land therein described according to the records in my office. I further certify there are no abstracts or transcripts of judgments, taxes or other liens standing against said lands. In testimony whereof I have hereunto set my hand and affixed my official seal this 21 day of August, A. D. 1879.
[SEAL.] [illegible] W. C. SANDERS, County Clerk and Recorder.

INSTRUCTIONS.

This Company will send by return mail, to any one sending within sixty days from the date of this paper their names, P. O. address, County, and State, plainly written in full, a clear warrantee deed to a lot 25 feet front by 125 feet deep in North Denver, Colorado, clear of all taxes. Applications for city lots must be accompanied with one dollar for each lot to pay cost of making and acknowledging deed, postage, etc. The lots then can be sold and transferred at your pleasure. I had a fast horse, drove him at full speed, some times with two grown ladies and myself in the Buggy, and it is to-day worth all the money I paid for it. I say the Emerson & Fisher Buggies will do.
A. M. TEAGUE, Farmer.

The favorable reputation the Carriages have made in localities where they have been used for several years by Liverymen, Physicians, Farmers and others requiring hard and constant use, has led to an increased demand from those localities, to meet which the manufacturing facilities of their mammoth establishment have been extended, enabling them now to turn out in good style.
